The lawyers in the case joined in a motion for a verdict Judge Platt. in a motion for a verdict, Judge Platt then told the jury that if the lawyers did not object he would excuse all the durors but the one from Hartford and allow him to bring in a verdict directed by the court, after the arguments were made today.

In the suit, which was brought fifteen years ago, $19,000 are asked, the plaintiff claiming that he was a creditor of the firm of Orlo, Atwood & Sons of New London and that the firm made an assignment and Attorney Waller was engaged by him to appear for him before the commissioners of the state, which was done and the claim disallowed. He then ordered Waller to take an appeal, and claims that Waller failed to have it entered on the docket of the superior court, and that he thereby lost the right of appeal. Talcott's claim amounts to $30,000.

Preventing Trolley Wrecks. With the development of interurban electric rallway service has come 8 demand for some more rigid control of the operation of these lines for the pro-tection of the traveling public. On Sept. 21 a wreck ocurred on an Indiana trolles line in which 39 persons wer-killed and a score injured. In the wreck at Stanton, Ill., a few days ago 26 were killed and 29 injured. In both cases it has been shown that the wrecks were caused either by reckless ness or absolute disregard of orders. In the filinois wheek it was developed at the coroner's inquiry that one of this crews had orders to walt at a certain siding for the northbound train. The southbound train was ahead of time and the crew decided it could make the next siding. The collision and its toll of life resulted. A somewhat similar disregard of orders caused the Indiana wreck. Persistent Chinese.

Fred W. Fitch explained that when he bought his property it was sewered into a private drain in the street so the sewer does him no good. It was explained to him that the builder of the drain either did not get permission to build it or else it was granted with the understanding that it would not prevent the property from being assessed when a public sewer was built. The assessments on the Hill estate Persistent Chinese.

That Chinese laborers, with an overweening desire to gain admittance into the United States or Canada, are not dismayed by so small a thing as the lack of a cordial welcome is evident from the persistency with which they worm their way into the two countries. Sometimes they succeed in their undertaking, but very frequently they are caught and deported—a process, by the dertaking, but very frequently they are caught and deported—a process, by the way, which is attended by no little expense. The four, for instance, who were taken from a box car at Holyoke. Mass., on Sept. 18. have been started back to China by way of San Francisco, and it is estimated that their deportation will cost the government between $1,200 and $1,500. Meanwhile, Canadian secret service officers have just made their second haul of contraband Chinamen since the official investigation into the smuggling of Chinese laborers was begun. Saturday night or Sunday they captured eighteen Orientals who arrived at Vanconver on board the steamer Empress of India. These Chinamen attempted to evade payment of the head tax by declaring themselves as merchants, each being themselves as merchants, each being provided with letters by a Vancouver interpreter who was formerly engaged as a customs official.—Manchester Un-
